Let's Pay Up!!!

The Didsbury Golf Club is a private one and those who play should pay. We have a good course, one of the best for many miles in any direction. The course this year is being maintained by hired help and as you know, hired help like to see that old cheque on pay day. It is imperative that dues be paid by July 15; that's the deadline!

It has also been brought to the attention of the club that a goodly number of golfers, non-members, play the course without bothering to place green fees in the box provided. Golf is a sport — let's be a sport by paying what we owe.

Fees for the local course are: Family $15.00; Men $12.50; Ladies $7.50; Students $2.50.

The above are payable to Don Newton at the Royal Bank.

Members are requested to check when they observe people using the course, for free. Any members may have visitors play with them without the green fee bogie.

GOLF NOTES

Due to that old weatherman, the ladies' day last Thursday was washed out. Tea was served to eight ladies. Tea money, $2.

This Thursday no tournament will be played. However those who wish to play are asked to arrange their own games and take their own lunch. Watch for next week's tournament announcement.

DIDSBURY REPRESENTED IN STAMPEDE PARADE

Old-Timers Get A Free Ride...

Shown above is a picture of that old stage coach which packed a group of old-timers into town on July 5th, 1955. They came in by a different route more years ago than they care to remember. There just wasn't room inside, so Alvin Hunsper and A. Traub, he's the guy between the skimmers, crawled on top. That fellow holding the shooting iron is Manassa Weber. The sedate ladies inside, you can't see them all from here, were Mrs. Rennie, Mrs. P. Murphy, Mrs. Elma

Good, Mrs. Alvin Hunsperger; and they had some boy friends with them, W. H. Stouffer and E. Shiering. The pioneers mentioned have spent many years watching the district grow. They deserved the "free ride". —Photo courtesy Alta. Gov't

The Calgary Stampede and staff holidays go together, and this week we are working a little short-handed as the lads have taken out for other parts. If we should miss the odd item which you had expected to see we hope you will bear with us and one small phone call will ensure its publication in our next issue.

The skeleton mentioned earlier will probably be the boss when we get this one in the post office. The only thing we haven't done so far this week is sweep the floor. But, shucks, the guys will be back next week and the place will take on a new look (it better!).

Australia, with about half the population of Canada, has since the Second World War accepted just about the same number of immigrants.

Side Shots: We spoke with a few of the fellows who didn't make the trip on the coach, but they had definitely been here long enough to qualify — guess they figured they had enough of that sort of transportation. Don't blame them; we had a chit-wat with the driver and

The Old-Timers were out in force, the kids were on hand for the races and ice cream. We had a stage coach too — one of the best in the west — and everyone seemed to have had a good time when the celebration, commemorating the 50th birthday of our province was held here on Tuesday, July 5th.

A real coverage of the day's activities are a bit sketchy as we were unable to attend, but we'll give you what we have.

The coach arrived on schedule, loaded up with old-timers at the hospital corner and proceeded downtown. At the hotel they made a try to hold up the bank and failed; another group of pioneers were loaded into the prairie schooner for a trip to the arena grounds. They included Fred Moyle, Mrs. A. White, H. Levagood, Mrs. A. Traub, W. Miller, W. Reist, I. Levagood, G. Peeg.

There were approximately 800 in attendance at the grounds and numerous pictures were taken. It was estimated that more than 1000 persons were present who had settled here prior to 1905 (a fair record). Any of those who were here before 1905 will receive a group picture from the jubilee committee.

Side Shots: We spoke with a few of the fellows who didn't make the trip on the coach, but they had definitely been here long enough to qualify — guess they figured they had enough of that sort of transportation. Don't blame them; we had a chit-wat with the driver and he was about ready to quit too!

There were rustlers out too on that Tuesday evening. They "borrowed" the horses and coach and had a small whirl around town. The skinnners worked overtime to get things in shape for the southward trip the next morning. Rosebud Garage did a little overtime (for free) to get the wagon (who said that) in condition for the last 50 miles.

It was a big day for young and old and now we must look forward to the next 50 years. May they bless us all with peace and not too much worry.

The Didsbury Jubilee organizing committee would like to thank all organizations and individuals who were in any way responsible for the fine display and turnout at the big event held here on Tuesday, July 5.

Any old-timers who had their picture taken on that date are asked to contact Mr. H. Lynch-Staunton to receive their printed copies.

SEED GROWERS HEAR SPEAKER

The members of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association attending the first annual meeting to be held in Interior British Columbia, heard their president, James Farquharson of Zealandia, Saskatchewan, present a review of the past year's activities.

Mr. Farquharson reported that despite all the difficulties such as rust epidemics and flooding during the 1954 season, considerable expansion was experienced by the Association. He mentioned that last year's operation at the Association headquarters in Ottawa were the second highest on record, being exceeded only by the crop year of 1948.

The president reminded the members that adverse weather last fall resulted in a reduction of quality in Selkirk wheat. Some of this Selkirk wheat was sacked and sealed as registered No. 3. Mr. Farquharson pointed out that it was imperative that none of this valuable stock be lost even if the quality was low, and it was a case where purity of variety took precedence over quality.

The members were also told about the progress of the Canadian Forage Seed Project in which the C.S.G.A. is represented. Mr. Farquharson said that the project is now beginning to achieve its objective of increasing the supply of pedigreed seed of legumes and grasses for crop improvement purposes.

The true loose smut problem in barley was briefly described by Mr. Farquharson. He reported that the Saskatchewan Branch of the C.S.G.A. had launched a program five years ago directed to the control of true loose smut in barley. The knowledge gained shows that the use of field counts at crop inspection time are unreliable as a means of estimating the degree to which the seed from the crop inspected may be infected with true loose smut. The Saskatchewan Branch requested the Association to discontinue the use of the field count method and to adopt a more accurate embryo dissection test to determine the degree of infection of true loose smut in barley seed.

In concluding his address Mr. Farquharson paid tribute to the memory of Mr. A. L. Seale who was formerly chairman of the Searle Grain Company, Winnipeg. Mr. Seale's contributions to crop improvement and the general bettering of the Canadian agriculture were well known to all seed growers. The Association elected Mr. Seale to an Honorary Life Membership in the Association in 1932.

First U.S. turbo-jet engine to complete 1,400 hours of operation without major overhaul was a J33 engine built by the Allison Division of General Motors. In 1,400 hours, an airplane powered by this engine could travel the equivalent of 30 times around the world.

Notes From D.A.

By H. W. Sutherland

Howard Fulcher is away on holidays and will be back on July 25th. In the meantime I am holding the fort and will be glad to give any assistance I can.

Within the past few weeks I have visited a number of farms reporting sick or unthrifty pigs. In all cases I found that the problem was one of sanitation and providing the animals with a dry place to sleep. I have one man's permission to record here that he has found that pigs can't be raised like chickens in that you can't build up a so-called litter for them. This chap simply threw in more straw as the bedding became dirty and wet and soon he had a soggy mass (or mess) about a foot deep. The ammonia from this soon caused the pigs to refuse feed and become unthrifty. They returned to normal after a week out-of-doors and bedding in an old straw stack.

Have you ever read of the work done with swine at the University of Iowa? They have made many important findings, and among these is the fact that a pig that is in a clean, dry pen, or on green pasture with a dry place to sleep, will use 1-8 to 1-5 less feed per pound of gain, and will require from 6 to 20 days less time to reach maturity. In other words, the pig that is clean and dry will put the most return in the farmer's pocket.

Adjustable length of cut provides a 3-1/2-inch cut for cured hay . . . 1-2-inch cut for silage. Cured hay chopped with the long cut keeps better, is less dusty when feeding, and is easier to fork with less waste. Silage crops cut to short cut pack better in your silo, with fewer air pockets . . . less spoilage.

Converting the John Deere for once-over harvesting of ensilage row crops is merely a matter of substituting the row-crop unit for the windrow pickup. See us for details. Come in soon!

No Lawyers Left . . .

Premier Manning is now in the position of having no lawyer at all on his side of the legislature. Very rarely has that situation developed in any province or nation.

And yet he must have an attorney-general. Custom dictates that the attorney-general be first an attorney. But if there is no attorney to call on, what is the premier to do? In our opinion the custom should be revised. Premier Abernethy ignored it for a time.

The minister of education does not have to be a teacher. The minister of health needn't be a doctor, or the minister of agriculture a farmer. In fact a non-professional person usually makes a better minister, because he sees his department from the outside, as the public sees it. His deputy and other assistants can provide all the professional qualities required.

Therefore it is high time that political theorists get away from the idea that only lawyers can be attorney-generals. Usually there's no death of candidates if a lawyer is required for this particular cabinet post. But there is no law saying that the legislative assembly has to have at least one lawyer, and therefore, the custom of requiring a lawyer for the attorney-generalship is ill-founded and unreasonable. We don't doubt that any cabinet member be strengthened by having a good lawyer in it, but it should not be obligatory on the premier to appoint at least one. The cabinet should be able to call on its civil servants for all necessary legal advice it needs, and a layman could just as easily handle the attorney-general's portfolio as the health, education, agriculture, mines or any other department. There's something wrong with the system if he can't.

FARM CHEAPER

For the first time since the war farm land has declined in price, on average across Canada. Average price is estimated at $50 an acre for 1954, compared with $51 the year before. Lower values are reported for Prairies and each of Maritime provinces except Nova Scotia, which saw no change. Rest of the provinces show higher values.

Here are latest figures, with previous years' figures in brackets, followed by prewar figure: Prince Edward, $59 ($61, $33); Nova Scotia, $54 ($54, $32); New Brunswick, $52 ($54, $27); Quebec, $51 ($77, $41); Ontario, $101 ($96, $45); Manitoba, $45 ($49, $17); Saskatchewan, $29 ($30, $15); Alberta, $42 ($43, 16); and British Columbia, $102 ($9, $59).

The eight locks of the Welland Canal's 28 mile length lift or lower ships a total of 325 feet as the ply between Port Weller and Port Colborne.

The slick surface of wet asphalt roadways has sent many a motorist lurching to the garage with flattened fenders and shattered headlamps. But now research engineers have come up with something that sharply reduces this accident hazard. When their special aluminum oxide abrasive is applied to the road surface, it cuts down by more than 30% the stopping distance of your car when you apply the brakes at 30 m.p.h.

...So in addition to saving weight and work in a thousand everyday and special applications, aluminum may prove a major factor in saving lives, too.

Hear Student From Korea

A Sectional Rally of the W.A. and W.M.S. of Knox United Church was held recently in Oids. A good representation of the auxiliaries from the southern half of the Red Deer Presbyterial were present. Mrs. A. E. Eastes of Ponoka, W.M.S. President, was chairman and under her direction a playette from "India" was presented, which vividly and impressively illustrated the Parable "If you give nothing — you can expect nothing."

Mrs. T. M. Dyer of Edmonton, Provincial President for W.A. reported on the annual Dominion W.A. meeting and Mrs. W. T. Haythorne of Edmonton reported on the Dominion Branch W.A. annual meeting.

The highlight of the rally was an address by Miss Po Hi Pak, a Korean W.M.S. scholarship student, who has spent the past two winters in the Training School in Toronto. Miss Po Hi Pak spoke English with amazing fluency. She told of the confused life she had lived in Korea and how here amidst the warmth and friendliness of Canadians she is getting her thinking straightened out and has found the answer to her deepest problems. She is looking forward to returning to Korea where she will serve God and her fellowmen, and hopes to help solve the great moral and social problems which exist there.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Hargraves of Innisfail, as usual, delightfully entertained with their sacred songs. The inspirational day was brought to a close when Mrs. A. Boffey of Oids beautifully rendered "Grateful Oh Lord Am I."

U.S. WHEAT CONTROL

Last Saturday farmers in the United States voted for continued strict control of wheat acreage and marketing allotments. This means that during the 1955-57 crop year the price of wheat will be supported at not less than 76 per cent of parity or an average farm price of $1.81 a bushel. The acreage will be restricted to the minimum national allotment of 55 million.

Grover's voted 77.5 per cent in favor of the continued control. If less than two-thirds of those voting had favored the controls, the 1956 support figure would have dropped to 50 per cent of parity or about $1.19 a bushel.

A plan has also been drawn up aimed at improving the quality of the grain grown and providing for discounts on certain varieties which are suitable primarily for feed purposes.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson says that the surplus problem is extremely serious and adds that the 1956 crop plus surpluses will provide enough wheat at the end of next year to meet all domestic and foreign demands for a full two years.

Penalizing Marriage . . .

A married woman who works at a job or profession must very often hire someone else to care for her children or her home, but she is not allowed to deduct any part of this as an expense, and her husband is deprived of the married status which would otherwise have helped to offset this cost.

The reason for this tax is often said to be the feeling that it is against public policy to encourage married women to work; they should be at home looking after their children themselves.

If the government is going to argue (even privately) that the Income Tax Act provisions are a good thing because they tend to discourage married women from seeking employment, they must reflect that by the same reasoning, the act as it stands could be said to encourage immorality.

Current forecasts point to Canada, by 1965, being the world's fourth greatest iron ore producer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The fact that God's man is endowed with unquenchable strength and power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life." Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light, and might of intelligence and life." The life-giving power of God is also set forth in passages from the Bible including the following (Psalms 27:1, 4): "The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? . . . One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple."

Weather, Markets
Greatest Worry?

Capital is wealth invested in business or industry. There is an element of risk in all such investments, and those who are not willing to risk should not invest.

Farming involves the investment of capital and the taking of risks. Those who are not willing to take the risks inherent in farming should not invest their capital in that business. They would be much happier in some other occupation.

The risks in farming are of two kinds, production risks and marketing risks. Of these the production risks are the greater. From the time the farmer puts his seed into the ground till the crop is matured and safely harvested and housed there is never a day that it isn't exposed to the risk of destruction.

There is the risk of pests, of drought, of wind, of excessive rainfall, of rust, of hail, of frost, and if the farmer intends to feed his products to livestock, he runs the further risk of disease or mishap to his animals.

Any one of these could completely destroy his crop and his whole season's work, but they are risks that have to be taken and the farmer faces them as he faces the uncertainties of life.

Compared with these, the risks of the market are very small. Yet it is the risks of the market that the farmers most resent.

The worst beating our farmers, especially our western farmers, ever took was during the depression years. Yet even in those years their losses from price failures were small compared with their losses from crop failures.

Why are the farmers so resentful towards the risks of the market and philosophic about the risks of production?

It is because they have never been led to believe that the risks of production are man-made risks, but it is being drilled into their ears every day that the risks of the market are due to the machinations of wicked men who manipulate the prices to suit themselves.

The strange thing about this agitation against the operation of the free market and in favor of supported prices with regulated marketing and controlled production, is that it is demanding that some organized groups be given power to do the very things that they accuse the open market of doing.

The truth is that the open market is the only effective means known to man of preventing the arbitrary setting of prices in the interests of favored groups of people.

Apart altogether from the right or wrong of it, would arbitrary price setting relieve the farmer of any of

WORST-EVER CRASH
MARS STAMPEDE

One man went to hospital and two horses were killed in what observers described as one of the worst chuckwagon crack-ups ever seen in Alberta as finals were reached in the wagon races at the annual High River Stampede Wednesday night.

The W. L. Newman outfit was ultimate winner of the championship. The crack-up saw the Stan Walker team of Byemore crash into Jack Lauder's Cochrane outfit, then sweep over the top of the Lauder team in a wild tangle of horseflesh.

Two lead horses in Lauder's team were killed and several other animals were injured.

Lauder was taken to High River hospital and found suffering a fractured pelvis and multiple bruises. The fracture was described by hospital officials as "not serious."

Both Lauder and Walker were leading candidates for the wagon races at the Calgary Stampede this week, with the crack-up seriously dimming Lauder's hopes of taking the championship.

ALL DEPENDS

A tourist in the Ozarks called to an old woman sitting on a porch. "How far is it to the nearest town?" "Pa figures it's about 10 miles that, and about 12 back," she answered. "Which is on account of him walking straighter goin' than comin'."

his worries?

It might relieve him of the necessity of deciding what crops he should grow and how many acres of each, or of deciding whether to deliver his harvested crop to market or to feed it to livestock. But it would also deprive him of the right to decide these things for himself and would reduce him to the position of having to take orders from far distant clerk who probably never farms a day in his life.

It might inform him what prices to expect for his different crops a year or two or three years ahead — but he could have no influence whatever in setting such prices or any assurance that anyone would buy his products at the prices set. While he would be under instructions not to sell to any but the authorized buyer, he would still have to worry about the ability of such buyer to take his crop when he wanted to sell it. If he should find himself dissatisfied with the service he receives from the authorized marketing agency, there would be no other place to which he could turn, for no other dealers would be allowed to operate.

Our belief is that the promised security of controlled markets, controlled production, and supported prices would prove to be a greater source of anxiety to the farmer than the open market ever was.

CASEBEER - SHEILS

Spring flowers and white streamers adorned the altar of Knox United Church, Didsbury, on Wednesday, July 6, when a pretty ceremony was solemnized, uniting in marriage Lois Irene, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Sheils of Didsbury and Mervin M. Casebeer, second son of Mr. and the late Mrs. Wm. Casebeer of Carstairs.

Rev. Stainton officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride, who entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin, played by Mrs. C. Leeson, was given in marriage by her father. She chose for her wedding a full length gown of embroidered lace and tiered nylon tulle over satin. The strapless lace bodice was modified by a matching bolero jacket, featuring lily point sleeves. From a beautiful headpiece of mother of pearl sequins, misted her veil of fine nylon illusion net, bordered with lace and matching set-in sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of deep red roses in knotted white satin ribbon. Her jewelry was a double strand of pearls with earrings to match, a gift of the groom.

Attending the bride were her two sisters, Mrs. Gladys Dowell as patron of honor and Miss Ann Sheils as bridesmaid. The former was attired in pink bouffant tulle skirt over taffeta, with embossed satin bolero. Her shower bouquet was of yellow, pink tipped carnations. The bridesmaid chose a strapless model of turquoise nylon net over taffeta with matching bolero. The skirt featured a tiered peplum and she carried pink carnations. Both wore flower head-dresses and chapel veils, to tone with their frocks.

Little Lorna Sheils, cousin of the bride, acted as flower girl. Her dress was of pink silk orlon and nylon net over taffeta, featuring cap sleeves and a very full skirt trimmed with rushing and flowers. Her head-piece was of pink flowers and satin. She carried a nosegay of red roses and pastel lilies.

Both the groom's aunt, Mrs. Tighe, and the bride's small sister, Linda, wore rosebud corsages.

Attending the groom was his cousin, Mr. Gavin Shearer, and Mr. Roy Dowell. Mr. Leslie Sheils and Mr. Stewart Tighe acted as ushers. All wore carnation boutonnières. During the signing of the register Miss Bonnie Clark sang "Because," accompanied by Mrs. C. Leeson. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Sheils wore navy orlon faille, with white accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception for 70 guests was held. The church parlors were tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers and white wedding bells. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, beautifully decorated by Mrs. A. Marsh, and flanked with roses. The guest tables were centered with carnations. Servers were Mrs. Shirley Thompson, Miss Joyce Elliott, Miss Gloria Schumaker, Miss Gathel Keirsgaard and Miss Lorna Wiggins.

Acting as master of ceremonies was Mr. Roy Dowell. Mr. C. Leeson proposed the toast to the bride, which was responded to by the groom. Following this Miss Bonnie Clark sang "O Perfect Love."

In the evening, open house was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a wedding dance at Lone Pine hall the bride changed to a blue-gray gabardine suit, matching the groom's. Her accessories were white and her corsage of red roses. The couple left for a honeymoon to Sweet Home, Oregon and other points in the U.S. On their return they will reside east of Carstairs.

ROBERTS - COVERDALE

The United Brethren Evangelical church in Great Falls, Montana, was the scene recently of wedding of interest to Didsbury and district, when Miss Carol Coverdale, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Coverdale of Foremost, Alta., became the bride of Mr. Brynlyd Roberts, second youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Roberts of Didsbury.

Attired in a pink box style suit, with a corsage of gladioli and carrying white accessories, the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Joyce Coverdale of Lethbridge. Ringhold Karl of Foremost was best man.

After a reception in the Park hotel Terrace Room the young couple left for a honeymoon trip to Helena, Kalispell and Didsbury, where they will visit with the groom's parents.

The newly-weds will take up residence in Lethbridge.

One of the great mysteries of life is how the boy who wasn't good enough to marry the daughter, can be the father of the smartest grandchild in the world.

WILD OATS: During the past week I have been asked by a number of men if it is possible to eradicate wild oats. Unfortunately, the use of chemical to control this bad weed is still high in price and also in experimental stages, therefore, we will still have to resort to correct cultural practices, to eliminate wild oats.

I am surprised that so few people are aware that to eliminate wild oats you MUST grow them out. The plant must be allowed to grow until it is at least in the 4 to 5 leaf stage. Many think that if the seed has germinated and the plant is visible above ground it is O.K. to disc, till or cultivate the ground and there will be a sure-kill of the seedling plants.

I have seen where this was done and have known wild oats to grow three times from the one seed as a result of working the land too soon after the seeds have germinated. This may sound fantastic but I have seen it happen.

It is impossible in a short letter like this one to give all the details and arguments on wild oat control. I will say this however, the combination of proper cropping methods, combined with the correct cultural procedure, will most certainly result in good wild oat control.

Watch those spruce trees for evidence of the Yellow Headed Spruce Saw Fly. If you examine the trees and find that the needles are disappearing and you find greenish worms, with black stripes and a copper-colored head, you may be in for trouble. However, we can tell you what to do and supply you with the material with which to spray the trees.

WHICH ONE WAS THE FOOL?

The lecturer was a celebrated Doctor of Law, and his talk was to be on "Fools." The chairman, who was something of a humorist, stood up to introduce him.

"Ladies and gentlemen," he said. "We are now to have a lecture on fools by one"—he paused, and there was loud laughter before he resumed—"of the wisest men in the country."

The lecturer then rose to speak. "Ladies and gentlemen," he said. "I am not half so big a fool as the chairman" he paused, and again there was loud laughter — "would have you suppose."

M.V.B.C. NEWS

(From Our Own Correspondent)

Camp meeting has been in progress for several days and we are looking forward to an increase in attendance during the coming week. Our college affords rooming facilities for the campers, and already almost all the available space is used. The speakers are of the best, and above all, in the line of music, we have an electric organ installed by a Calgary firm. Mrs. Beck, the evangelist's wife, is well qualified to play this instrument and the entire congregation enjoys it at each meeting. All who read this column, and their friends, are invited to attend.

You may be interested to know that on Wednesday there will be rallies for the Youth Fellowship and Bible College. The Alumni Association of the college will meet for its own luncheon on that day, and will discuss their projects for the college.

Instead of two boards for the college, conference decided there would be only the board of directors, but that 15 members would sit on the board from now on. This includes the members suitable for trustee work, and now the trustees will function under the direction of the board in a more real sense than before. This board will meet some time during camp meeting.

It is to be noted that the president of the college, Rev. D. M. Taylor, has received a majority vote at conference for the position of vice-district superintendent of the conference. Rev. H. A. Traub is again the district superintendent, and now will have his assistant in the same town. Mr. Taylor ranks high in the estimation of the people of the church and is filling some very responsible positions as a result. We congratulate him and I am sure that all who read this will be pleased also.

On Sunday night two graduates of the college were ordained as ministers of the church. Rev. Orland Boettger is the pastor at Hoadley, and received ordination. Rev. J. W. Cox has been pastor at Big Valley and has now a leave of absence to continue his education at Cascade College this fall. He graduated with his Bachelor of Theology several years ago. He also received ordination. We wish them all success in their field of religious endeavor.

On Friday Rev. and Mrs. V. Pollock and Rev. and Mrs. Ozra Traub will be missionary speakers in the afternoon service. These missionaries have served on the Nigeria, West Africa field for a number of years and will be most interesting we are sure. All who want a fresh mission vision will want to hear them. A national from India, Rev. Hembrom, will also be present and will speak, along with Rev. and Mrs. Reilly, general secretary of the United Missionary Board. Friday will be a great day. Be sure to attend.

One of the graduates of this past year has been accepted for pastoral duties on the field at Cremona. Mr. Alfred Dietz, who received his Bachelor of Sacred Literature, has been appointed to this place. We wish him all success in the coming year. It is also noteworthy that Rev. J. Maconochie, Th.B., also a graduate of M.V.B.C., has been appointed to the Parkdale church in Calgary. We congratulate him on this move and we are sure he will be well accepted in this new church. Rev. Willard Swalm, graduate from this college and the Liberal Arts College, Bethel College, Mishawaka, Indiana, has been appointed to the Edmonton church for the coming year. Mr. Swalm has been a most successful pastor at Bergen and is being followed there by Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Hallman.
